BOEING™ 787, 777 & 747 ASSEMBLY PLANT TOUR

Above the factory floor inside the world's largest building (472 million cubic feet by volume), witness the awe-inspiring process of twin-aisle jet assembly. Watch a short film about Boeing's contributions to aviation, innovation, and aerospace. See several planes including 747, 777, and 787 Dreamliners in various stages of assembly and manufacture for airline customers around the world.

From the tour balcony, see airplanes under various stages of assembly.

FUTURE OF FLIGHT AVIATION CENTER

Explore the Aviation Center and Aerospace Gallery and learn about the newest developments in aviation and aerospace through interactive exhibits. Don't miss the Strato Deck where you will have a view of completed aircraft readied for painting and testing before final delivery. Visit The Boeing Store for authentic Boeing clothing and souvenirs.

Visitors have time to discover the many informative exhibits (admission fees included).

Attention: Children must be at least 4 feet (122 cm) tall to go on the tour. No personal items are allowed on the tour, including purses, backpacks, binoculars, cell phones and cameras (photos and videos not allowed). Lockers are available. Restrooms are not available during the one hour Boeing Assembly Plant Tour. The Boeing Assembly Plant Tour requires a short walk with 21 stairs; the tour can be done by wheelchair with 7 days advance notice.

Have your own transportation? Boeing Tour tickets may be purchased separately for $25 at FutureofFlight.org
